

Dear Owner,

Bayswater is pleased to offer direct deposit payments, ACH, for our royalty and overriding royalty owners only. Our policies and procedures do not support ACH for working interest owning parties. Please fill out and sign the application on the reverse side of this letter and mail it back to the address at the bottom of the application form along with the required voided check. If you received this letter with a division order, please return the application with your division order.

Additionally, paper revenue detail statements will no longer be provided. Bayswater provides a free service called EnergyLink, an easy-to-use website which provides immediate access to current and historical payment information.

If you do not have an EnergyLink account, a unique EnergyLink registration letter will be mailed separately to you. After registering, statements will be available. If you already have an EnergyLink account, you can contact EnergyLink at the number below to add your Bayswater revenue payment information to your existing account.

Important Note: The voided check for the bank account must match record title, which is the legal name on your real property deed, recorded in the County Clerk and Recorder's Office, where the property is located. If these do not match with your application, it will not be processed.

Examples:

- If record title is in a trust, the voided check will match the trust name, and all trustees will have to sign the direct deposit form as a trustee.
- If record title is held in a business, corporation, LLC, or partnership, the voided check will match the business, corporation, LLC, or partnership, and signors need to match those that have been provided on the Statement of Authority.
- If record title shows ownership as an individual, and provides a voided check as joint checking account, then all names on the joint checking account must sign the direct deposit form.

Disregard ACH form if you are already setup for electronic payment; only return forms for a new application or if changes are needed.
